

High-efficiency UPS system off-grid system 200kWh price quote

AI Overview

A 200kWh high-efficiency off-grid UPS system typically costs between $30,300 and $36,600, depending on configuration, hybrid integration, and turnkey services.

System Overview

For industrial or remote off-grid applications, a 200kWh lithium iron phosphate (LiFePO4) battery system is commonly used. These systems are designed for high reliability, long cycle life (over 6000 cycles), and high round-trip efficiency (>90%), . They are suitable for solar integration, hybrid generator operation, and continuous 24/7 energy management in harsh environments .

Key Features

- Battery Chemistry: LiFePO4 (Lithium Iron Phosphate) for safety, thermal stability, and long lifespan .
- Capacity: 200kWh usable storage with 100kW continuous discharge capability .
- Energy Management: Integrated EMS for real-time monitoring, load balancing, and generator/PV coordination .
- Thermal Management: Liquid or air cooling to maintain optimal battery temperature and improve cycle retention .
- Safety: Fire protection systems, gas detectors, smoke detection, and automated shutdown sequences .
