

How much does a custom-made pigtail channel from South Asia cost

AI Overview

Custom-made pigtail channels from South Asia typically cost between $1 and $10 per unit for standard wire or fiber pigtails, with prices varying based on material, customization, and order quantity.

Price Overview

The cost of a custom pigtail channel depends on several factors:

- Material and Conductor Type: Copper, tinned copper, silver-plated, or gold-plated conductors affect the price. Fiber optic pigtails use different grades of optical fiber and connectors, which also influence cost .
- Wire Gauge and Core Count: Wire sizes range from 2AWG to 32AWG, and core counts can vary from 1 to 50 cores. More cores or thicker wires increase material costs .
- Connector Type and Customization: TE, Molex, JST, Delphi, Yeonho, Sumitomo, Yazaki, or other connectors can be specified. Custom molds or specialized connectors may add to the price .
- Quantity and Order Size: Bulk orders reduce per-unit cost. Small sample orders may incur higher per-unit prices due to setup and tooling costs .
- Certifications and Standards: UL, VDE, CE, or ISO certifications can slightly increase costs but ensure compliance and quality .
- Lead Time: Standard production lead times are 3-6 weeks, but urgent orders may increase costs .
