

The bridge to Belgium has been completed

AI Overview

Several major bridges in Belgium have recently been completed or renovated, enhancing transport safety and connectivity.

Rubenslaan Bridge in Zemst

The Rubenslaan (N270) bridge over the E19 in Zemst has completed extensive structural renovations and is now fully reopened to traffic. The project, which began in April 2024, involved stripping and renewing the bridge deck, adding a new waterproof layer, optimized drainage, and asphalt. Support elements were replaced, and cathodic protection was applied to prevent corrosion. The bridge now features a permanent red coating on the cycle path and is expected to remain safe for 30 to 40 years .

Henneau Bridge over the Brussels Ring (R0)

The new Henneau bridge on Hector Henneaulaan in Zaventem was officially inaugurated on May 8, 2024. This replacement of the outdated bridge provides a wider structure with improved safety for cyclists, pedestrians, and animals. The project included upgraded access and exit ramps, dedicated public transport lanes, and eco-tunnels for wildlife. The bridge is part of a broader Flemish government initiative to enhance mobility and environmental integration around the Brussels Ring .
